

Sectional Garage Doors

Hard wearing, reliable and built to last.

There's no such thing as a typical Kiwi garage.

From band practice to brewing beer, the garage has become an extension of our homes. Garador manufactures and supplies custom-made garage doors that protect and keep safe whatever it is that you've got going on in your garage; providing you with added peace of mind.

The benefits of choosing a Garador garage door

Whether you're building a new home or thinking of replacing your old door, you cannot underestimate the effect of your garage door on the visual appeal of your home. That's why we offer an extensive range of door colours, styles and finishes for you to choose from. Strong, durable and built to last, you will feel safe and secure when you have a Garador garage door installed.

A trusted brand

Garador has the largest garage door and opener distributor network in New Zealand and has been manufacturing garage doors locally for over 50 years. Your local Garador dealer is on-hand to help you if you're buying a new garage door or replacing an old one. All of our dealers have been extensively trained and many have years of experience in the business. Your local dealer will help you through the steps to getting the garage door you want.

Why chose a sectional door?

Garador sectional garage doors will ensure you can continue to enjoy your home and lifestyle, with added features that improve door safety, reduce maintenance requirements and give smooth, quiet operation.

Sectional doors are made from a number of rigid sections or panels that are hinged together and move vertically in the opening, then horizontally along the ceiling, guided by tracks and counter-balanced with springs.

These doors are the most aesthetically adaptable of today's garage doors, and are available in a range of colours and patterns. Sectional doors can be made of wood and other materials, but are most commonly made of steel. Benefits include:

WEATHER PROTECTION

Pliable bottom weatherseal helps to keep out leaves, dust and rain. We can also insulate your garage door leading to a warmer, quieter, dryer garage.

SUPERIOR STRENGTH

The panel construction of Garador doors has a high inherent strength and rigidity. For wider doors, reinforcing struts are installed to combat high winds.

SPACE MANAGEMENT

The vertical opening operation of Garador sectional doors allows greater use of your driveway and wall space within your garage.

It's not simply about parking the car, keeping the bikes dry and additional storage.

Put your own stamp on it.

Whatever you use your garage for, we can help to find a door that meets your requirements.

You can also customise your garage door by adding window panels. Not only do they add curb appeal, but they provide additional light. This is ideal if you use your garage as a workshop or office, or if you have no other natural light source in your garage.

Window options

We have several window options available to suit your design needs. Talk to your Garador Dealer.

STATESMAN PLAIN

GRANGE PLAIN

Get the use of your garage back with proper insulation.

We've taken our most popular styles of sectional doors and added a Textile Insulation.

If you are serious about insulating your house, we recommend that you also consider insulating your garage door and enjoy the freedom to use your garage around the clock. Textile Insulation is an optional extra that offers exceptional insulation technology and represents the smart choice for conscientious home owners.

Why Textile insulation.

Garador's new polyester insulation is manufactured using thermal bonding, which makes it tough and durable (it can last over 50 years) and can be recycled.

We understand the importance of supporting the circular economy, which is why recycled textile materials are included in the production of this insulation resulting in at least 50% recycled content.

Ssshhh!

Whilst we know that not every Kiwi garage is home to band practice, we do know that activities and projects that take place in there can be very noisy. Did you know that by adding a layer of insulation to your garage door, you can help to keep the noise in?^

You can trust Garador

We have been manufacturing and installing garage doors for over 50 years here in New Zealand, Australia and beyond. When you buy a Garador door you can relax. Our workmanship is second to none and our installers are professionals who know exactly what they're doing. We believe in the old adage, 'do it once, do it right'.

Every Kiwi deserves a reliable garage door.

Garador has looked after Kiwis for more than 50 years and we believe that reliability is paramount when it comes to your garage door.

CREATING A TRULY FLAT DOOR

Garador takes pride on producing quality doors and openers. However, some things are out of our control – like the direct heat of the sun and seasonal temperatures that can cause irregularities in the door panel surface (due to thermal expansion). The colour you choose can also play a part.

When we produce our doors, we make every effort to take this into account and minimize the effect of thermal expansion across the door. For a more consistent flatter door, we recommend either a Sierra or the negative detailed Nevada, both produced from heavy-gauged steel.
